MONKEY DESIGN USA TO EXHIBIT AT CHICAGO MARKET: LIVING AND GIVING™

RIVER FOREST, IL, June 20, 2008 . Monkey Design USA, a div. of Asia Business Group, announced its participation in the Chicago Market: Living and Giving™ running July 17 - 23, 2008, in the showroom of White Ginger, Suite 13-416. Monkey Design USA will show its new line of model postcards that assemble into 3D models of animals, fish, humanoids, bots, and buildings at the show.

Monkey Design postcards are a quirky, fun, and imaginative way to send greetings to a friend or to simply assemble and collect. Popular designs include a boxy dinosaur, a retro-scooter, a coy “TV Girl”, a whimsical little monkey with a cape and shorts, and Asian themed structures: pagodas, gates and much more. In Taiwan, where the line originated, over 800,000 of cards are sold each year. Retailers on both sides of the Pacific find that the distinctive style, low price point ($3/pc MSRP at retail), and the “wow-factor” combine to make the product irresistible to even the most jaded consumer.

Kevin C. Crowell, President, Asia Business Group discovered the line while ambling about Taipei one Saturday afternoon looking for something to bring home as souvenirs for his children. “Monkey Design’s cards were unlike anything I’d ever seen in the United States or, for that matter, anywhere else. They’re fun, interactive, beautifully designed and executed, and have that Asian design sensibility that recently has become so popular among young Americans. Monkey Design model postcards are represented in Chicago by White Ginger, LLC.
